

Long Walk to Freedom

Genre: Autobiography

A political prisoner for almost 30 years, Nelson Mandela writes about apartheid, courage, and his 1994 inauguration as president of South Africa. Mandela pays homage to the men and women who fought to make South Africa free for all its people.

Our Power as Young People

Genre: Interview

At the age of 12, Craig Kielburger started Free the Children, a successful organization aimed at helping end child labor practices in developing countries. In this interview, Kielburger explains how young people can make a difference in the world.